

Learn Hustle Grow Bio

In 2008, after attending premarital counseling, we created a plan to manage our finances. While we had a lot in common, it was obvious that we were not on the same page regarding money. That did not stop us from getting married. We were creating a union of a spender and a saver. The plan which outlined responsibilities by percentages would prevent the spender from bankrupting the household. It would also limit how much the saver was required to share. Understanding money changed our lives and saved our marriage.

Together we raised two sons, paid off over $300,000 in debt, including our mortgage, and began investing. Our investments allowed us to leave our corporate jobs and travel the world. In 2019 alone we traveled 6 continents, 23 countries and over 35 cities! Rob and Reshawn Lee are debt free world travelers and married investors. Through social media this dynamic couple shares what it means to learn, hustle, and grow.
